

Go! Mobility

Apply for a secondment and get approvals quickly and conveniently

Every year more than 2,000 of our people embark on a unique career journey by working in another part of the world. Some seek out short-term assignments that may last a few months. Some look to test themselves with new clients or in new professional environments over a couple of years. Others look to relocate to new parts of the world permanently. Whatever the length of their assignment, they all benefit from a rich professional development experience and, for many, an opportunity to accelerate their careers or experience roles they may not have previously imagined.

Everything online

Apply for a secondment quickly and easily online. All phases of the application process, from capturing your CV to completing the application form, are completed in the browser of your choice.

If you're taking a spouse with you, their information is also securely stored along with your application.

Transparent approvals

Check when various approvals are provided and stay up to date on the progress of your application.

Confidential

All the information you provide remains confidential. Your information is handled to the strictest Privacy Regulations at all times.

Easily Accessible

Go!Mobility leverages the responsive architecture of KPMG Fulcrum so you can access the app on any device (laptop, smartphone or table).

Integrated Messaging

Various role players who have to provide approvals to your application are notified automatically.

Integrated Workflow

As various stages of the application are completed (e.g. approvals are provided) your application automatically moves to the next step in the process. No need for you to chase up to find out where you stand in the process.

Administration

Global Mobility Professionals have access to a secure dashboard to monitor the progress of applications and quickly find approved candidates for placement on global opportunities.

kpmg.fulcrum-digital.co.za